Good morning everyone;

Spring fire season starts on Saturday but the weather keeps reminding us that there is always something to be prepared for. Thanks to Greg Estoll and Rocky Wood for responding to the flash flooding emergency in Tazewell County last week. Another round of wet weather is on its way so more flooding is possible for Virginia. Again, make sure you have your stuff together, both physically and mentally for whatever emergency we may face. Be ready to be safe.

Check out the Branch for other goings-on and have a good week.
